

Windproof

*The first two trips were dedicated to taking surveys
They asked what improvements were needed
Many wanted shade, children games, and more vendors
The City Heights Cohort tried to invite more vendors
But many said no
Countless were bored at the small fair
Setting their sights on creating activities for children
Limited to activities that had to be kid proof
But most importantly wind proof
A brainstorm generated a long list
Many games crossed off
Even more when they couldn't get the funds
Limiting them to only three
That were only made possible
By donations from their members
They searched for extra materials at the school
To make the checkerboard
Sadly it wasn't finished in time for their next trip
They almost left with nothing to give
But at the last minute
The materials needed for the play dough...
Viendo los ninos
Divertidos y teniendo un buen tiempo
Empujando me
Mas de lo que yo quiero*

Autor de Estudiante: Naja Chaidez